Sentence: You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the great and first commandment. And a second is like it: you shall love your neighbour as yourself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

Prayer of the Day: O God, whose Son has taught us that love is the fulfilment of your law: stir up within us the fire of your Holy Spirit, and pour into our hearts your greatest gift of love, so that we may love you with our whole being, and our neighbours as ourselves; through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen.

From Pauline's Sermon

One day, like Moses, each of us will come to the end of our earthly journey. And when that day comes, I doubt that what will matter most is how many meetings we attended, how many jobs we completed, or how much we possessed. What will matter is whether we loved. Whether we loved God faithfully. Whether we loved others generously. And whether we made room in our lives for compassion, forgiveness, and grace.

So, the challenge for us this week is wonderfully simple: Love God wholeheartedly. Love people generously. And leave the rest in God's hands. Because a life lived in love is never a life wasted.
